

A man wearing a blue and white striped t-shirt and dark pants stands on the upper landing of the staircase, leaning against the metal handrail.

A wall-mounted unit containing a grid of approximately 12 mailboxes, arranged in two columns and six rows.

A vertical panel on the wall featuring a series of circular vents or air outlets, arranged in a grid pattern.

The staircase consists of several steps made of grey tiles, with a prominent yellow safety strip running along the edge of the steps.

A polished metal handrail runs along the right side of the staircase, providing support and safety.
